

Do You KNOW An OUTSTANDING VOLUNTEER?

The Newport Daily News is looking for nominations for its annual
COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD

Here's your chance to nominate a special person who has gone above and beyond the call of routine community service, an individual who has given to the community without seeking anything in return. Tell us about a person who has really helped to make positive changes to the community.

There are very few rules about who can be nominated for the award. The work must be voluntary, not paid, and the award will not go to someone for service in political office. The awards typically honor individuals and will be presented this year at a banquet in April.

The nomination process is relatively simple:

Send a written nomination letter, along with any supporting documents, to:

Community Service Awards, The Newport Daily News

P.O. Box 420, Newport, RI 02840

By fax to 849-3306 or by e-mail to Editor@NewportRI.com.

Be sure to include contact information for the primary person making the nomination.

Questions can be sent to Editor@NewportRI.com, or call 380-2351.

The deadline is Friday, March 8, at noon.
